FERAL CATS

Hundreds of thousands of feral cats roam the U.S.
Trap, neuter, return helps control the feral cat population.

WHY TRAP?

Trap, neuter, return is a humane way to control the feral cat population.

WHY REGISTER YOUR COLONY?

Register your colony and help shelters return your cats and others from your area to you.

DON'T LIKE CATS?

If you don't like cats, learn how to steer them off your property.

Trap, Neuter, Return

WHAT IS TRAP, NEUTER, RETURN?

Catching feral cats, taking them to get neutered, and then returning them to their homes. Trap, neuter, return is endorsed by all major animal organizations.

WHY TRAP, NEUTER, RETURN?

1. Improve cats' health and quality of life.
2. Humanely stabilize feral cat population and prevent overpopulation.

1. GET A TRAP

You can borrow a trap for free from Animal Control or Homeless Cat Management. Traps can also be purchased online or at Lowe's and Home Depot. The prices range from $30 - $70.

2. MAKE AN APPOINTMENT WITH THE ARL

The Animal Rescue League has a limited number of appointments for spays and neuters, so before you trap make sure you will be able to bring the cat in. Don't worry -- if you are unable to trap the cat you can cancel the appointment without penalty.

3. TRAP!

Now you can trap the cat! Place the trap outside with a dish of food. Have a blanket ready, so that you can cover the trap once the cat is inside. This will help keep the cat calm. You can wait nearby until the cat comes, or if it is taking a while you can leave the trap there and check on it every hour.

4. HOLD THE CAT UNTIL THE APPOINTMENT

Once the cat is safely trapped, keep the trap covered with a blanket. Weather permitting, you can keep the trap outdoors until the appointment with the clinic. Otherwise, we recommend keeping the trap indoors or in your basement.

5. HAVE THE CAT SPAYED OR NEUTERED

Take the cat to the clinic!

6. HOLD THE CAT OVERNIGHT AFTER THE APPT

Once you have picked up the cat from the clinic, it must be held overnight in the trap or a cat carrier before being released. This is to ensure that it is fully healed. As in step 4, you can hold the cat outdoors if the weather permits it.

7. RELEASE THE CAT

Release the cat back into the area in which it was trapped. Feral cats are not socializable, so they are not suitable house pets.

8. CLEAN & RETURN THE TRAP

Keeping the trap clean is an important way to keep the cats healthy, by preventing the transmission of cat diseases. If you borrowed the trap, be sure to return it to the owners.
